lavender in the world

Where on Earth can you talk to your calendar in your own language?

5 interface languages · dozens of countries · 0 servers · 0 trackers

One calendar, five languages

English Français Català Aranés / Occitan 中文

filled = official or co-official hollow = widely used, recognised or big community

How to read this map. It is a stylised dot map: pins mark places, not borders, and where a country uses several languages the pins sit side by side. Lavender itself works in any country with a modern browser; the language only changes the interface. Lists are not exhaustive and language status can change over time.

English and French travel the furthest

English

official or co-official nearly everywhere below

Europe: United Kingdom, Ireland, Malta.

Americas: United States, Canada, Jamaica, Bahamas, Belize, Guyana, Trinidad and Tobago.

Africa: Nigeria, Ghana, Kenya, Uganda, Tanzania, Zambia, Zimbabwe, Botswana, Namibia, Malawi, South Africa, Liberia, Sierra Leone, Cameroon, Rwanda.

Asia: India, Pakistan, Singapore, Philippines. Oceania: Australia, New Zealand, Fiji, Papua New Guinea.

Also widely used (hollow): United Arab Emirates, Malaysia, Netherlands.

Hello Smart bar: Dinner with Marta Friday 8pm

Français

official in 25+ countries, widely used in more

Europe: France, Belgium, Switzerland, Luxembourg, Monaco.

Americas: Canada (Quebec and beyond), Haiti, French Guiana. Pacific: Vanuatu, New Caledonia, French Polynesia.

Africa: DR Congo, Republic of the Congo, Côte d'Ivoire, Senegal, Mali, Burkina Faso, Niger, Chad, Cameroon, Gabon, Guinea, Benin, Togo, Madagascar, Burundi, Rwanda, Central African Republic, Djibouti, Comoros, Seychelles, Equatorial Guinea.

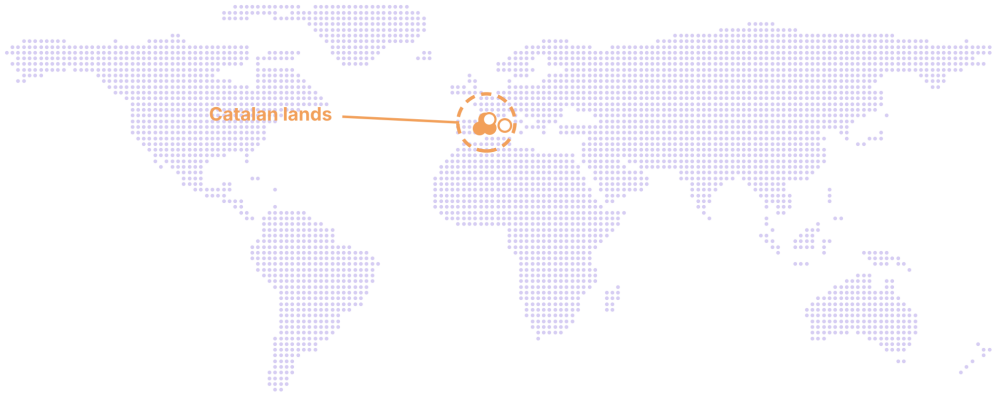

Widely used (hollow): Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia, Lebanon, Mauritius, Louisiana (USA).

Bonjour Smart bar: Dîner avec Marta vendredi à 20h

Catalan and Aranese: small languages, big hearts

Català

co-official in Spain, official in Andorra

Andorra (the only country where Catalan is the sole official language).

Spain: Catalonia, the Valencian Community (as Valencian) and the Balearic Islands, where it is co-official.

Recognised or spoken (hollow): Northern Catalonia in France (Perpinyà and around) and L'Alguer / Alghero in Sardinia, Italy.

Catalan is the language Lavender was born in: it is built in Sant Cugat del Vallès.

Hola — Smart bar: Sopar amb la Marta divendres a les 20h

Aranés / Occitan

Aranese is official in Catalonia

Val d'Aran, Spain: Aranese, a variety of Occitan, is an official language of Catalonia and is taught in local schools.

Occitània, southern France (hollow): Occitan is a regional language, not an official one.

Italy (hollow): the Occitan Valleys of Piedmont and Guardia Piemontese in Calabria.

Mangosoft understands Aranese commands, so it can follow you across the Pyrenees.

Adishatz — Smart bar: Sopar damb Marta dividres a las 20h

Chinese and the whole wide world

中文 — official in China, Taiwan, Singapore and the SARs

Official or co-official: China, Taiwan, Singapore, Hong Kong and Macau.

Large communities (hollow): Malaysia, Indonesia, Thailand, Philippines, Japan, United States, Canada, United Kingdom, Australia, France, Peru, Brazil.

Heads up: Lavender's Chinese interface uses Simplified characters. A Traditional Chinese option is not available yet. Chinese commands for Mangosoft are planned for v11.

你好 — Smart bar: 周五晚上8点和 Marta 吃晚饭

Good to know

Works everywhere there is a browser. Open the page, pick a language, done. No account, no region lock.

The language changes the interface. Mangosoft currently understands commands in English, Catalan, French and Aranese. Spanish and Chinese commands are on the roadmap for v11 yakisoba.

Your data never travels. Lavender has no servers, so your calendar is just as private in Sant Cugat as in Singapore or Santiago.

Switch any time. Pick the language from the selector on the landing page or in Settings.

Missing your language? Lavender is open source under the GPLv3, so translations are very welcome.

Fun fact: the same sentence, five ways. Dinner with Marta Friday 8pm turns into a real event in English, Català, Français and Aranés, and soon in Chinese commands too.